COWHIDE

PRODUCTION PROCESS

Where Design Meets Art: Our Patchwork Craftsmanship

Each patchwork rug in our collection goes through a meticulous handcrafting process in which natural hides are transformed into true works of art. For us, every piece is the most valuable part of a carefully composed puzzle:

Characterful Selection:

Each cowhide is individually examined based on its color tone and hair texture; only the most vibrant sections best suited for the patchwork design are selected.

Precision Cutting:

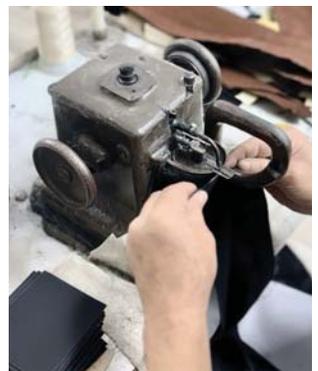

The selected hides are cut with millimetric precision by our skilled artisans, strictly following the design plan.

Color & Form Composition:

The cut pieces are arranged one by one by hand to create visual harmony and achieve the most aesthetic color transitions.

Master Stitching Techniques:

The pieces are joined using special, high-durability stitching techniques to ensure long-lasting shape retention and smooth, seamless connections.
